ABOUT PANICALE

Panicale has been recognized as one of the “Borghi più belli d’Italia” (Most Beautiful Villages of Italy). It is located in Umbria on the border with Tuscany. Umbria is called the “green heart” of Italy because of its central location and natural landscape. Olive trees fill the fields and line the roads, representing olive oil as an important part of local culture. Rastrello is the Italian word for the hand rake used to gently pluck ripe olives from the tree. For us, it is the symbol of family and friends coming together in the olive grove to share the age-old beauty of the harvest.

Panicale is situated equidistance from Rome and Florence, with a fast train to each city leaving from Chiusi (25 minute drive from Panicale). We cater to the world traveler who wants to experience the “real” Italy, the typical Italian village, away from the big cities. Even though Panicale is small, there are a few wonderful restaurants and cafes to choose from, all of which are only a minute walk from the hotel.

Panicale is a close drive to many lovely Umbrian towns, such as Perugia, Assisi, Orvieto, Solomeo (Brunello Cucinelli), Montefalco, Gubbio and Deruta. With Tuscany so close, it is also very easy to drive to Chiusi, Cortona, Siena, Pienza, Montepulciano and Arezzo.

RASTRELLO

Rastrello’s intimate boutique hotel is a historic building, dating back to the 1500s, with seven guests rooms and one apartment. It is situated in the medieval town walls of Panicale, on top of a mountain overlooking Lago Trasimeno.

Our boutique hotel emphasizes Umbrian products from cheeses and charcuterie to local wines and Italian craft beers. Our kitchen uses fresh vegetables, fruits, and herbs directly from our farm’s garden.

There are many activities to help immerse you in local culture, such as the PanOpera Festival in September and October. Our visitors can also experience the olive harvest or hunting for truffles. For the more active traveler, there are walking, hiking and biking trails directly from Panicale.

We like to support Italian/local artists with a rotating art exhibit in the reception and lounge, and we sponsor artists’ visits to encourage inspiration from the local landscape and culture.

Rastrello Boutique Hotel is designed with modern comforts in a historic ambiance. Every guest room has a view to the lake, a view that will transport you back in time to a Perugino fresco.
